Deborah Lahoud

Intuitive Healer and Inspirational Speaker

As an experienced motivational teacher, speaker and spiritual guide, Deborah's life purpose is to change the way people view life and the world at large. She is driven by her passion to help others live illuminated, fulfilled and more peaceful lives and works with clients, students and audiences to achieve higher levels of inner peace and emotional freedom using a special combination of metaphysical and scientific methodologies.

Deborah has a proven track record of transforming lives. Called a "Guiding Light" and the "Bridger of Dimensions", she nurtures positive change and personal growth by providing unique tools and information - not only about everyday life here on Earth but also about the spirit world and how things work on the other side.

A sincere desire to make a difference and inspire others was born in her at a young age after a traumatic childhood forced her inner sense of self to awaken at age 12. Following an early, unhappy marriage and a successful but stress-filled career, she felt compelled to pursue her passion to serve others; a passion that would allow her to inspire, heal and enlighten those around her. She learned that "perspective is everything" and she imparts the how and why behind that statement in every personal interaction.

She now delivers incredibly insightful programs that provoke thought, develop positivity, create laughter, and fill her Holiday Fees are assessed for major holidays and are details are provided in the Client Service Agreement with an appetite for joyful living. Those she has freed through her consultations and personal appearances walk away equipped with tools to change patterns and behaviors... empowered to find peace in their everyday lives by releasing traumas and old memories and learning to change the way they view situations.

Her own life has been enriched by a supportive and caring husband, two beautiful daughters and a wonderful grandson. She enjoys living in the New York area. In addition to helping others, her passions include learning, teaching, traveling, collecting crystals, and exploring a variety of cuisines.

Deborah is an Intuitive Healer, as well as a dedicated student of the Course in Miracles. She holds certifications in Crystal Healing and Essential Oils, and is a Reiki Master Teacher, Emotional Freedom Coach and Access Bars facilitator. Prior to pursuing her life's calling, she spent more than three decades as a professional corporate educator in the greater New York area.
